

Anti-Aliasing

1. Toggling

When generating charts in PDF format for use in reporting engines such as JasperReports, you should consider disabling anti-aliasing in the charts to get the 'cleanist' looking image. With anti-aliasing enabled, your charts can sometimes look blurry.

This flag is set on the `ChartProperties` Object in all chart types. The default setting for this flag is `true`.